

Digital Millennium Copyright Act Policy

QMeds, Inc. ("QMeds") has adopted the following policy toward copyright infringement in accordance with the Digital Millennium Copyright Act, a copy of which is located at <http://www.loc.gov/copyright/legislation/dmca.pdf>. The address of QMeds' designated agent for copyright takedown notices ("Designated Agent") is QMeds, Inc., 40 General Warren Blvd., Suite 160, Malvern, PA 19355. If you believe that content residing or accessible on the QuiqCore Service infringes a copyright, please send a notice of copyright infringement containing the following information to the Designated Agent at the address below: (a) identification of the work or material being infringed; (b) identification of the material that is claimed to be infringing, including its location, with sufficient detail so that QMeds is capable of finding and verifying its existence; (c) contact information about the notifying party (the "Notifying Party"), including name, address, telephone number and e-mail address; (d) a statement that the Notifying Party has a good faith belief that the material is not authorized by the copyright owner, its agent or law; (e) a statement made under penalty of perjury that the information provided in the notice is accurate and that the Notifying Party is authorized to make the complaint on behalf of the copyright owner; and (f) the Notifying Party's physical or electronic signature. After the Designated Agent receives notification of an alleged infringement that meets all of the requirements above, QMeds shall disable access to or remove material that it has a reasonable, good faith belief is copyrighted material that has been illegally copied and distributed by any user of the QuiqCore Service. QMeds will then immediately notify the user responsible for the allegedly infringing material (the "Offending User") that it has removed or disabled access to the material. QMeds reserves the right, at its discretion, to immediately terminate the account of any user who is the subject of repeated takedown notices. A user who believes it is the wrongful subject of a copyright takedown notice may file a counter notification with QMeds, by providing the following items in writing to the Designated Agent at the address below: (i) the specific URLs of material that QMeds has removed or to which QMeds has disabled access; (ii) the user's name, address, telephone number, and email address; (iii) a statement that the user consents to the jurisdiction of Federal District Court for the judicial district in which its address is located, and that the user will accept service of process from the Notifying Party; (iv) the following statement: "I swear, under penalty of perjury, that I have a good faith belief that the material was removed or disabled as a result of a mistake or misidentification of the material to be removed or disabled"; and (v) the user's signature. Upon receipt of a counterclaim, QMeds will forward it to the Notifying Party. The Notifying Party will then have 10 days to notify QMeds that he or she has filed legal action relating to the allegedly infringing material. If QMeds does not receive any such notification within 10 days, QMeds may restore the material to the QuiqCore Service.
